SUNDAY REFLECTION

When I was growing up in Jamaica, a man who was homeless and had some physical deformities frequented the parking lot of the town's grocery store. He asked for money or food from the passersby. Many a time, people completely dismissed him, looked right past him as if he did not even exist, or sometimes shouted hurtful and unkind words. I was astonished. My Mother, however, always greeted him by name and with a hug or a handshake. And so did we, my siblings and me. Without question. Without hesitation.

In word and deed, my Mother, showed by example her belief that everyone has a story, and everyone has dignity. No matter what. Thanks be to God!

Silence is a gift of God, to let us speak more freely with Him. - St. Vincent Pallotti
