REFLECTIONS

The news is troublesome. Our smartphones can hold us hostage as we doomscroll headline after headline about the latest tragedies, outrages, and horrors. It seems that what is happening is precisely the opposite of what the Bible calls us to do.

Yes, it's vital for Christians to be aware of what's going on in their communities, their countries, and the world. But it's easy to get trapped in the darkness. Our environment can make all the difference. Dwell in darkness, and we tend to be downcast.
Associate with evil, and the evil may spread like a toxic virus attacking our system. Live with constant exposure to violence and we will likely get hurt.

Evil will always be at work in this world until the end of the age. Surprise attacks are possible, so it is wise to be on guard. The wise child of God is prepared to deal with evil when it rears its ugly head – but only in the Spirit's power. So be prepared: dwell in the light.
